IAKS

International Association
for Sports and Leisure Facilities

Meet international experts sharing their experiences on making communities places of active living. Get to know best practice examples to tackle the challenges of climate change. Ecological, economic and social sustainability needs to be addressed in an integral way.

IAKS is proudly hosting the 27th edition of this outstanding knowledge sharing event.

IAKS is the leading global non-profit organisation for professionals from the sports, leisure and recreation facilities industry. Since 1965, IAKS has been enabling international networking for the exchange of planning, design and operational expertise.

Together with FSB – the leading international trade fair for public space, sports and leisure facilities!
